

Testimonials

“This is a fun game that captures the essence of Tolkien’s The Lord of the Rings for the Facebook audience. I’m currently trying to figure out how to defeat Saruman with Gimli, not so easy, but of course gives the game that addictive 'I'll just have one more go' appeal.”

Ian Livingstone, OBE

“And by the way... GREAT GAME!”

Matthias Wurmböck

“Love the music, the art is pretty good, and the open-world aspect of the game is really neat...Over all, you guys have done a great job and I deeply enjoy the stories.”

Ian Speck

“This is one of the best games that I have played on Facebook. The writing for the adventures and the voice over work are well done. In addition the music is fantastic and something I could imagine listening to while trying to relax.

“The game play is similar to a turn-based game like D&D Tiny Adventures. You can skip the short waiting period between turns for the cost of some in-game gold but honestly that isn't necessary if you have other things to do during that time. The One Ring provides you with a lot more control of your character and you can make strategic decisions which will ultimately affect the outcome of your adventures.

“Another nice feature about this game is that it doesn't require you to have a large number of friends playing. If you like Tolkien and fantasy give this game a try!”

Larry Douglas

“Love the game and keep up the good work!”

Jim Wineinger

“Extremely addictive!”

John Pyott

“I like the game a lot, took me a little getting used to how it all works, but now it is going smoothly...a fun game.”

Billy Lautenschlager

“Very addictive game.”

Frédéric Beaudouin

“Game is playing OK and I am enjoying it because it is very different from other games on Facebook.”

Win Mooney

“I really enjoy the game style – nice break from the Zynga pyramid scheme type games.”

Deacon Michael Porter

“I took a brief look at the game yesterday...Fun, fun.”

Dan Laufer

“Very nice - great work guys!”

Michael Hornung

“Is this heaven?”

Jennifer Perez Lopez

“Sweet!”

Sam Witte

“The artwork is brilliant.”

Shane Wood

“Very fresh and new. plays so differently to many of the facebook games.”

Timothy Bateson

“This game is amazing! I love it! I really like the way you can choose different characters to play, and different adventures to go on! It's SO cool!”
